

NAWIC GRANITE STATE CHAPTER COMPANY SPOTLIGHT

HARVEY CONSTRUCTION

BUILDING WITH INTEGRITY, LEADING WITH PEOPLE

A LEGACY BUILT ON PEOPLE

For President Bill Stevens, who has been with Harvey for nearly 30 years, culture begins with leadership.

“If you treat people fairly and you are honest, the reputation follows.”

That philosophy has helped guide Harvey through years of growth while maintaining its identity as a people-first organization. From long-tenured employees to new team members, there is a shared sense that everyone plays a role in the company's story.

Vice President & Operations Manager George Huggins echoed that sentiment, emphasizing that despite the company's expansion, its culture remains rooted in connection.

“Our culture and success are anchored in its people, who influence every aspect of how work is performed.”

With the majority of employees living and working in New Hampshire, Harvey's presence extends beyond the jobsite, fostering meaningful relationships within the communities it serves.

With the highest number of NAWIC members in the Granite State Chapter, Harvey Construction isn't just supporting the future of the industry—it's helping lead it.

PRIDE IN THE WORK

From large-scale projects to community-focused builds, Harvey takes pride in delivering quality work that stands the test of time. For Bill, one of the most rewarding aspects of construction is seeing a project come to life:

“You get through the mess of building... but seeing it come alive at the end—that's the most satisfying part.”

This pride is matched by a strong sense of accountability. Harvey is known for standing behind its work, long after a project is complete, reinforcing trust with clients and partners alike.

“When you partner with Harvey, we're not going away.”

Integrity. Passion. Teamwork.

GROWING AN INCLUSIVE INDUSTRY

As a long-standing leader in the construction industry, Harvey recognizes the importance of creating opportunities for the next generation, especially women entering the field. Both Bill and George highlighted the evolving role of women in construction, noting increased representation in project management, design, and leadership roles, while acknowledging continued opportunity for growth in the trades.

“It's about awareness... showing people not to be afraid to get into this industry.” — Bill Stevens

Bill reinforced the importance of industry support, noting that investing in organizations like NAWIC directly contributes to workforce development and long-term growth.

As the construction industry continues to evolve, the message from leadership at Harvey Construction is clear: opportunity is everywhere for those willing to pursue it.

“The sky's the limit—wherever you want to take it, you can.”
